BIO NÜSSE EUROPA

PRODUCT GUIDE

At the beginning is the nut and our farmers care about it. What started as a small project 12 years ago, grew to a big family: for our anniversary we can be proud to have projects on a total of 1.549 hectares land -naturally, all certified organic. And as we only offer long-term partnerships to our farmers, their number increases every year.

OUR SOURCES

Our partners in Turkey and Azerbaijan are the cornerstone of our business: our long-term contracts rely on trust and certification. All our partners are certified organic and their experience and careful handling make it possible for us to offer our partners the highest quality.

BIO NÜSSE EUROPA

«Nomen est Omen», they say – and it certainly is for us. We are a German company working with passion to provide the best quality organic hazelnuts to our European customers. Family-owned, family-run and family-oriented, we have the future in mind when we trade: sustainability in agriculture and equity in society are what we aim for in our role as a producer and importer.

OUR GATE

The people of Hamburg refer to the city as «gate to the world» – and from the traditional Hanseatic city our hazelnuts enter the big wide world. Thanks to our warehouse in Hamburg, we can ship the day you place an order - to Germany, to Europe and overseas.

Untouched by pesticides, agriculture in this land has remained traditional – and so our organic hazelnuts are as organic after the certification as they were before.

Our Turkish hazelnuts originate from Samsun, which has been the heart of hazelnut cultivation for centuries. The balanced climate and the fresh sea air offer the best basis for a high-quality crop-certified organic for twelve years now. Zaqatala in Azerbaijan on the other hand may be unknown to many, but for us it is a young and promising project.

Kiwa BCS, Ecocert and Ceres – those are the names of our certification bodies. Kiwa monitors our trading activities very closely and ensures that our imports comply with EU organic regulations. Ecocert and Ceres inspect our Turkish and Azeri hazelnuts (respectively) before they are imported, so as to ensure that especially the aflatoxin levels are as low as they are supposed to be.

Due to their many decades of experience, Eichholtz knows how to handle, store and to transport sensitive products. As a both IFS and organic certified company, Their modern facilities and high-tech storage systems ensure that our products are in the very best hands at the right temperature until we pass them on. Eichholtz makes it possible for us to store our hazelnuts in Hamburg and therefore ship them the day you place your order.

Better safe than sorry. Although we take all possible precautions to guarantee the health(iness) of our hazelnuts, we nevertheless employ Eurofins to test every one of our shipments. Eurofins laboratory uses the most advanced technology to obtain independent and reliable results. And Only when our hazelnuts pass every test we let them go their way.

Due to its high nutritional value, the hazelnut can be ranked among the healthiest of foods. With only 25g of hazelnuts, you can for example lower your bad cholesterol (LDL) and raise the good cholesterol (HDL) and receive about 50% of your daily recommended dose of vitamin E. It is likewise highly beneficial for your concentration and is therefore typical brain food especially for students and high-functioning professionals. Our farmers only produce organic hazelnuts and they have in many cases been doing so for over a decade: Our first project started in 2004.

Certified organic farming guarantees that our products contain no pesticides or other harmful substances and uses a gentle form of agriculture that seeks to minimise a negative impact on the environment. It also guarantees the dignity of our partners at work and its social sustainability.
